

Second edition of BIVEC-GIBET publication

"Road pricing in Benelux: Towards an efficient and sustainable use of road infrastructure".

In 2019 BIVEC-GIBET was celebrating its 40th birthday. This Benelux cooperation of higher education institutions and research institutions, active in the broad field of transport economics, seized this anniversary to publish the book "Road pricing in Benelux: Towards an efficient and sustainable use of road infrastructure". The book was intended to provide further insight into theory, application, and policy of road pricing.

In 2020, the Board of Directors of BIVEC-GIBET decided to publish a second edition of the book where the order of the chapters was adjusted - making the book a more coherent whole – a number of (mainly) editorial changes were made and the introduction was partly rewritten.

In order to reach a broad international readership, BIVEC-GIBET has decided to make the book appear in English. We apologize for errors of a linguistic nature that may have remained in the text.

Finally, we sincerely hope that you enjoy reading this book, which we are delighted to offer to you as free download.

The Editors